DETAILED ACTION

REMARKS

The after-final amendment filed by Applicant has been acknowledged. In the advisory action dated 10/11/07, claims 32-25 were objected to, but indicated as allowable if they were re-written in independent form and included all the limitations of base claim 23, and any intervening claims. The Advisory action also indicated that claims 24, 26 and 27 would be allowable if amended to include a positive recitation of throwing the claimed article at a target, or striking the article. Applicant amended claims 23, 28, 30, 31, 33 and 34, and added new claims 44-46 pursuant to the suggestions indicated in the advisory action. Claims 23, 28, 30, 31, 33-38 and 44-46 are currently pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 23, 28, 30, 31, 33-38 and 44-46 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Sitabkhan (US 2004/0022990 A1) discloses fabric material, such as carpet and drapes, comprising an aromatherapeutic agent disposed thereon. The aromatherapeutic agent is encapsulated in microcapsules wherein the microcapsules are configured to rupture upon exposure to compression force, heat, or shear force to release fresh sensory experiences. However, prior art does not disclose a method for releasing an aromatherapeutic agent from an article comprising the aromatherapeutic agent by throwing an object at the article, or by striking the article.
